AMERICA FOR AMERICANS & AMERICANS

THE SILVER PROBLEM.

Commercial Gazette.
Farmer Anderson has two thousand bushels of wheat.

Mr. Jones has a thousand dollars worth of silver bullion.

Mr. Anderson's wheat is worth in the market $1,000.

So is Mr. Jones' silver bullion.

Mr. Jones goes to Philadelphia, takes his silver to the Mint and has it coined into two thousand fine, pretty silver dollars.

When Farmer Anderson brings along his thousand dollars worth of wheat, Mr. Jones buys it, paying him $1,000—and he has $1,000 left with which to buy the wheat of the next farmer that comes along.

This is free coinage. Some people are surprised that all the farmers in the country are shooting for it.

We should see a good many strange things in this country if the silver people should have their way.

REPUBLICAN DELEGATION NINTH DISTRICT.

Pursuant to Rule 19 of the "Rules of the Republican Organization of Kentucky," the meeting of the Republicans of the Ninth Congressional District will be held in Convention Hall, Louisville, Ky., June 5th, 1885, at 10 o'clock a.m., in Hall's "third floor. Prompt attendance of the delegators at said hour is important and desired.

Re. D.A.U.

Chairman Ninth Congressional District.
Brookville, Ky., May 24, 1885.

The recent advance in wages in some of the industries leads the Chicago Record to say that "highprote clause will find it hard to account for a voluntary raise of wages under a system which they propose must inevitably cheapen labor."

It is entirely fair, says The Times Star, The Record should go a little more into detail in dealing with this subject.

In the first place the number of workmen whose wages have been raised, voluntarily or otherwise, is comparatively small. Again, the statement of The Record is misleading in that it tends to give the impression that labor has not been cheapened by Democratic legislation and that the voluntary raise of wages by Mr. Carnegie and a few other manufacturers puts the wages of their employees above the scale paid when the system of so-called high Protection obtained. This is distinctly not true. The general level of wages in all industries in the United States is lower than it was in 1892, as The Record knows. The voluntary raise at certain places restores wages to the old level, but as a rule the advanced wages are not equal to the old scale. The Democratic system has cheapened labor.

Moreover, it would be only fair for The Record to note the fact that there was no advance in wages in any industry until after the overwhelming victory of the party of so-called high Protection in the Congressional elections last fall.

It's a Grand Success.
The fact has been demonstrated by the thousands of testimonies of the Masonic Drug Company, of Oakland, Md., who received since the formation of the company a large number of Cataract Cure cases to the satisfaction of customers. No medicine has received such an endorsement from the people in so short a time as it did. The salve is a safe, medical preparation, and a patient is not required to buy the medicine by the dozen to get a cure. The Masonic Cataract Cure sells for $1 per bottle and can be had for 50 cents a month. The bottles cost about 10 cents each and second rate required to complete a cure. General cataract one bottle is guaranteed. No cure, no pay.

This is an unequalled offer and if you are a sufferer from cataract, ask a doctor from your druggist if no benefit derived from your medicine. A prominent R. E. Conductor speaks.

CUMBERLAND, Md., April 23, 1885.
To the Public:—I have the pleasure to inform you that I have the high-est and best guarantee that my Patent Medicine will be a chronic form and expect to use to the best advantage. The bottle will be removed from the trouble and the trouble from the shape and am on the second bottle for three months. I have the best guarantee that I did in the Journal I shall write you again in a few days. I have the best guarantee that I am a sufferer from cataract and am awaiting constantly what I can do for me, remain, yours truly,

RAKING

IN DAYS TO COME.

He pressed a kiss upon her brow.

"Darling," he cried, impetuously.

"I have come to you again."

"Alfred rejoiced the woman of the future, "that is all right, but I positively cannot afford to get you a new suit for the present."

He wept miserably, and insisted that it served him right for having married such a brute.

A commission of the late Congress is in session in Washington to fix the damages sustained by the clerks in the War Department in the college in June, 1883, of the old Ford's Theater Building.

$100—Record—$100.

The record book of the clerks disclosed to learn that there is at least one dreadfulness that science has been able to cure in its stages, and that is Cataract. Hall's Cataract Cure is the only safe and reliable Cataract Remedy. Cataract being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally, and is a safe, simple, and inexpensive remedy of the disease, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The price is $100.00 each family that receives it will put the country on a silver basis and will drive all the gold out of the country. This is not true; we have tried it once, and when we quit him three dollars to one dollar in gold more than the others, when we quit him three dollars to one dollar in silver more than the others, and he would be the dumping ground for all silver bullion. He is off there, for ours is the only nation under the sun that has silver bullion." The speaker went on to speak of the importance of the Cataract speech to the country at large.

Mr. Blackburn jumped on the administration, saying: "I am greatly handicapped, but let Messrs. Cleveland, Carlisle and all the rest take the stump, and I will still win this race, in spite of the whole combination."

TALKING BACK.

Senator Blackburn Replies to John G. Carlisle.

Quotes the Secretary's Recent Senatorial Record.

Attacks the Administration and Accuses Carlisle of Being a Free Silver Man—Mr. Blackburn Says He Will Win in Spin of Imported Orators LAWRENCEBURG, Ky., May 27.—Senator J. N. C. Blackburn, replying to Secretary Carlisle in his speech here Saturday, spoke substantially as follows:

"They were not satisfied to let Mr. McCreary, Mr. Buckner, Mr. Brown and myself fight this battle on its merits, but they imported a man who is greater than John the Baptist, to break this silver craze, as they call it."

"Now, understand what I am going to say about Mr. Carlisle will be in the kindest terms possible. I do not mean to say that Mr. Carlisle is not a gentleman, but he is not a citizen of this grand old commonwealth, where we live. His God, the Devil, knows I am not willing to believe he came in capacity of secretary of the treasury, to dictate to his people what to do about this all-important question."

"Mr. Blackburn undertook to show Carlisle's inconsistency. Said he: 'Carlisle said in Covington that he had never been for free silver. If the speech he made in 1878 was not a free silver speech, what was it? He let this speech go without any reservation, saying anything against it; but he comes out and says it was not a silver speech. Well, then, we will believe Mr. Carlisle and not his speech, and I will give you and little proof that he was not a free silver speech.'

"I thought when the mighty Carlisle came he was going to throw new light on this subject. But he did not. He did not advance a single new idea. First he had a coinage of silver, then he had a coinage of silver, and then he will put the country on a silver basis and end will drive all the gold out of the country. This is not true; we have tried it once, and when we quit him three dollars to one dollar in gold more than the others, when we quit him three dollars to one dollar in silver bullion. He is off there, for ours is the only nation under the sun that has silver bullion." The speaker went on to speak of the importance of the Cataract speech to the country at large.

Mr. Blackburn jumped on the administration, saying: "I am greatly handicapped, but let Messrs. Cleveland, Carlisle and all the rest take the stump, and I will still win this race, in spite of the whole combination."

The young men of Owensboro are to organize a sound-money club. The organization will be perfect as soon as the Sam Jones revival closes. The club will begin with a membership of over 300.

Ellijah Crockett, near Owingsville, lost his life in an odd manner. While trimming a tree he pressed a limb down and cut the end of it off, and when released found he held the remaining part of the limb sprang suddenly back, striking Mr. Crockett in the stomach with sufficient violence to produce death in a few hours.

Miss Corinne Clinkenbeard, who has been teaching a class in dancing for some time, closed her Saturday School evening with a delightful entertainment at the residence of her parents on Fifth street. The exercises consisted in a series of new and difficult steps, and the grace and ease with which each pupil displayed in executing them showed that they had a master in the art as a teacher. The orchestra that Miss Clinkenbeard uses is composed of Mr. Walter Petty and the Misses Hutchinson of the Ninth Ward. Every one attending the evening bands and congratulation were given to the teacher and her class, say her class will be doubled next term. She is the eldest daughter of Mr. J. T. Clinkenbeard, the genial, gentlemanly, whole-souled, good-natured cutter for Messrs. John T. Martin & Co.

do run into one they anger the fisherman and often disable the boat. The long, tough line gets entangled in the wheel and is flung over against the "cam." The "cam" is often clamped up and the machinery refuses to work. Even when good luck favors the boat and the "cam" is not crooked, the boat is compelled to stop and lose time while the line is cut out.

The big fish traps are also taken up at times. These are even more dangerous than the trout lines. The fishermen are thoughtless enough to anchor their fish boxes out an indistinct distance in the river. The swells from the boats force these free from their anchors and they float away. As a result the pilots must be constantly on the lookout for stray buoys directed from the shore in their direction.

THE TOP BUREAU DRAWER.

It is an Absolute Revelation of a Woman's Character.

Harriet Holt Calhoun says that a woman's bureau drawer—the top drawer in particular—is a true index of her possessive character more than any of her possessions, and I could almost tell her fortune by looking into it. It is a potpourri of everything—gloves, laces, hairpins, frizzles, collars, letters and an uneven, unmethodized, happy-go-lucky life, one that fate loves to pursue. The orderly woman who establishes a standard for people to live up to, always keeps this drawer in order. Her life is of the quiet kind. The woman who has her bureau drawer in perfect possession is an example of that makes life a burden to the ones who live with her. She is conservative and not very adaptable nor tolerant. Her order is the first line to heaven. Order does not by any means produce heaven. However, the bureau drawer never poses. You may profess sentiments that are not yours, and your mind and body do not make you a personality which you do not possess, and pose successfully for what you are not; you can buy correct books and pose for a literate by living up to their bindings. In your home, however, you can buy books, effects and harmonies and grand pictures and even the atmosphere that belongs with these evidences of culture will hover about. You can have a Louis Quince room without knowing why you have it, and you can buy your coat of arms and your antiques and your ancestors, and you may escape the soul of all that they represent and the world will be none the wiser. But let that world have a peep into the top drawer of your dressing-table and it will find out things about your real character of which it has never dreamed.

THE MAYSVILLE REPUBLICAN

WEEKLY PUBLIC LEDGER.

Did U?

Did you ever think that relatives or friends who moved to the West, or to the South, or to the North, or to Europe, to grow up with the country—always glad to hear from their "Old Kentucky Home?" And did it ever occur to you that a single copy of THE MAYSVILLE REPUBLICAN—the weekly edition of The Public Ledger—contains more news than you could embrace in a hundred ordinary letters? And it ever strikes you that you can send the paper to your relatives and friends for a whole year at less cost than you can write a letter every week? Besides, don't you think a year's subscription to THE REPUBLICAN would be a present highly appreciated by those at a distance? Suppose you try it and hear what they have to say on the subject.
